

BIODIVERSITY INSTITUTE SYMPOSIUM

FUNCTIONS AND VALUES OF BIODIVERSITY
UNIVERSITY OF OXFORD, UK | 6-7 JANUARY 2015

SESSIONS INCLUDE

Linking biodiversity to forest ecosystem functioning
Waves of wealth: the value of biodiversity in the oceans
Biodiversity goods and bads: the role of biodiversity in poverty alleviation
Who captures biodiversity value?
Will biodiversity loss limit our capacity for innovation?
How far can economic valuation approaches succeed in conserving biodiversity and ecosystems?

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

Neville Ash (IPBES)
Lykke Andersen (Institute for Advanced Development Studies, Bolivia)
Geoffrey Bowker (University of California)
Bram Büscher (Erasmus University, Rotterdam)
Dieter Helm (Smith School, Oxford)
Michel Loreau (CNRS, France)
Georgina Mace (University College London)
Arne Mooers (Simon Fraser University)
Camilo Mora (University of Hawaii)
Arthur Mugisha (IUCN, Uganda)
John O'Neill (University of Manchester)
Graham Pilling (Secretariat of the Pacific Community, New Caledonia)
Dilys Roe (IIED)
Sybille van der Hove (ICTA, University of Barcelona)

MORE DETAILS / REGISTER HERE: www.biodiversity.ox.ac.uk/biosym2015

#biosymox @bioinstituteox

